FUNDING FOR TAUGHT POSTGRADUATE STUDY

There are many ways to fund your postgraduate studies, depending on the type of postgraduate course or programme you will be pursuing.

Scholarships

Master's Excellence Scholarships

This scholarship is open to students with a home fee status who intend on studying one of our Taught Master's Degrees. It is worth £3000 and it's usually awarded in the form of a tuition fee discount. Therefore, you need to submit an application to study at Cardiff University and be made an offer before your fee status can be confirmed. Your fee status is determined in accordance with the Fees Regulations. Please consult the UKCISA website regarding fee status in Wales.

Only complete full-time and part-time postgraduate taught programmes that lead to a Master's degree are eligible. The programmes eligible are: a full-time programme leading to a taught Master's degree, a part-time programme leading to a taught Master's degree, MRes Biosciences, and MRes Stem Cell Neurobiology.

If you are thinking of studying part-time, you will receive 50% of this scholarship in your first year and 50% in your second year. If you are thinking of studying a full-time programme which lasts longer than one year you will not receive funding for additional years from this scholarship scheme or its successor.
